Short description

Standing Infrared Heater, 2x 1400W, On/Off, Timer, Tilt Protection

Product Description

The ETHERMA EXO STATIV is a flexible freestanding infrared solution for outdoor areas where fixed wall or ceiling mounting is not desired. The stable stand with concrete base supports two infrared heaters that can be operated via an electronic multifunction switch. Alternatively, control is possible with an optional remote control. The connection is routed neatly through the inside of the stand tube for a clean appearance. High-quality aluminium housings combine modern design with durable construction. Ideal for patios, hospitality areas and other outdoor spaces that require flexible positioning. This version is finished in nano anthracite. This product is only suitable for outdoor use.
