The image shows a blank template for a 6x2 grid of rectangles. The template is designed for cutting and folding. It consists of a large rectangle divided into six horizontal rows by solid black lines. Each row is further divided into two equal-width columns by a vertical solid black line. The outer edges of the entire template are marked with a dashed red line, indicating where to cut. The inner edges of the horizontal and vertical lines are marked with solid black lines, indicating where to fold. The template is intended to be used for creating a 6x2 grid of rectangles, likely for a project or a game.
